TATTERSALL'S CLUB SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR . . . MICHAEL McCORMACK

CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

At the Annual General Meeting I promised members that the committee would make regular reports in respect of the Club plans for redevelopment. Please turn to page 17 where the first detailed report is published.

I recently read that the greater percentage of suicides were not due to ill health or lack of money, but to loneliness — there is no reason for a member of Tattersall's Club to be lonely. Consider the functions held during the month of July. Firstly, the Tattersall's inaugural Sportsman of the Year Luncheon. The Club Room was filled to capacity including Arthur Morris and Bob Simpson (cricket), John Devitt (swimming) and Ken McCaffrey (rugby league). A magnificent trophy was donated by one of our most energetic and enthusiastic members, Allen Walker, and won by the personable swimming champion, Michael McCormack. Congratulations Michael and to all members of our sporting sub-clubs for their nominations. Unfortunately there can only be one winner.

Secondly, the "Epicureans" are renowned for their excellent cuisine and theatre outings. During July they held a well-attended dinner-dance in the Club Room. It was a trip down memory lane when John Ferguson's 16-piece band played as we danced to the tunes of Glen Miller, Harry James, Duke Ellington and Tom Dorsey. Membership of the Epicurean Club can bring joy, happiness and friendship to its members. Well done Neville Amy and his committee. To acquire friendship join one of the internal clubs listed on this page.

The Club's race meeting will be held at Royal Randwick on Saturday, September 1. Your race sub-committee, led by Norman Rogers, has worked diligently for the success of this meeting. The prizemoney for the historic Chelmsford Stakes has now been increased to $50,000. This race is the epitome of weight-for-age races in Australian and boasts of the most illustrious winners of any race in Australia. I will name a few of the champions who have won this race — "Gloaming", "Bernborough", "Beauford", "Phar Lap", "Tulloch", "Limerick" and "Kingston Town" — come and meet your Club friends at Randwick. For the present, a piece of free advice, and remember that advice is worth what you pay for it —

A good horse and a bad jockey — a fair bet.

A bad horse and a good jockey — a bad bet.

A bad horse and a bad jockey — no bet.

A good horse and a good jockey — a good bet.

Rotary Club of Sydney uses the Club Room for its weekly luncheon meetings — encore Rotary. Guest speakers during the month were Admiral Griffiths and Mr Nick Greiner, Leader of the Opposition — both excellent and in-depth speakers.

Mr Andrew Noble, the retiring chairman of Legacy, presented us with a plaque in appreciation of the services and support by our Club over many years and this will be placed in the Sportsman's Room.

Reorganisation of the Athletic Department has taken place with eighty new lockers installed, the gymnasium has been moved to the old handball court, and a new handball court has been established. We hope this will provide improved facilities for members and their guests.

We wish this magazine to be used for carrying news, achievements and information for the enlightenment of members. Very few members send us items of news. Do you have any suggestions for improvement to the Club facilities? We would be delighted to hear from you. It is your Club.

Kind regards,

A.J. McSWEENEY, Chairman

SOLICITOR WINS COVETED SPORTSMAN AWARD!

Treasurer David Dransfield congratulates Sportsman of the Year Michael McCormack.

Club member Michael McCormack was named Tattersall's Sportsman of the Year. It is the first award to be made in the newly-constituted SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR to be conducted by Tattersall's Club each year. Michael's attendance and constant performance and participation in the swimming section helped in winning this prestigious honour.

He has won the Silver Sharpe Trophy, Hillston 80 yards Handicap, placed in Tom Powell and Mandel Family Event. Michael has been an active Club swimmer since joining the Club in 1976. His schooling at Riverview was outstanding. He captained the school 1st XV, 1962-64 — 1st XI, 1963-64 swimming champion. 1964 was the year they won their first championship football competition. In 1965 Firsts and he played in the 1966 East team too.

Michael is a solicitor with Menlove and Company and a worthy choice as Tattersall's Sportsman of the Year 1984.

WE'RE LUCKY PEOPLE

Time-honoured Olympic Games have captured the sporting imagination once again. Go all the way to LA! Win or lose it's a thrill to see champions in action. Have you ever stopped to think how lucky we are not to be fettered or have iron bars between us and the games — and be able to chant "Come On Aussies, Come On!" for our contestants.

AJC NEWS

Congratulations to the Australian Jockey Club on the latest newsletter. It's in a new illustrated form and very informative. I see the hand of Tattersall's Club member and AJC committee member Bob Charley coupled with racing manager Ray Alexander.

Ray has a strong journalistic background. Noted Tattersall's Club member Neville Ridge's media group has been appointed sponsorship agent. Support for race prizes is so important.

CHAMPION IN CRICKET, ATHLETICS, SOCCER, RUGBY AND ACADEMICS

C.B. Fry (1872-1956) must rate as a sportsman of distinction. I recently read "As I saw it at the Time" by E. Swanton, author of 17 books, editor and journalist of great renown. It's superb reading to learn of this outstanding sportsman's achievements. C.B. Fry was captain of Oxford in cricket and football, president of athletic club and was holder of the world's long-jump record.

Made a 100 and led his side to victory over Cambridge. Injury prevented him from a Rugger Blue.

Won Cup-finalist medal, played seven Test series in England, stood for Parliament as a Liberal and made his chief life's work in the training of merchant seamen.

Really a man and sportsman to remember.

WINING, DINING AND CLUB NEWS

Mr and Mrs S.M. Adams were delighted to stage a birthday party dinner for their daughter Suzie. Suzie's husband Dr Adrian Sheens' practice is in the Regentville and Mulgoa areas. He enjoyed his off-duty evening at Tattersall's.

What better way to celebrate a great occasion than dinner at the Club? Enid and Herbert Lewin were happy hosts to daughter Janette and son-in-law Robert Mitchell who has just gained his Masters Degree in Oral Surgery. With them Robert's mother Gloria Mitchell, grandmother Connie Ongley and old friend and fellow member Ted Goss. A splendid evening was had by all.

John Pope was delighted to celebrate his father Allan Pope's 70th birthday. There was a party of 26, including wife Gwen, sister Ilma, daughter Christine and of course John. It was wonderful to see such a happy family group enjoying the best of Tattersall's.

Tattersall's Club celebrations on Gerry Donaghy came in threes. Triple birthday — wife Patricia; son Dr Anthony and daughter Felicity. Amongst those present were Gerry Donaghy and wife Patricia, sister-in-law Marie Donaghy from Murwillumbah, sons Dr Anthony and John with friends Wendy-Sue Halsby and Gabrielle MacIntosh, Peter Donaghy, daughter Felicity and friend Andrew Hodson. It was a fun evening and in keeping with the tradition of Tattersall's.

Doctor Gavan B. Young and Mrs Judith Young celebrated the 21st birthday of their son, Gavan Young, Junior. Doctor and Mrs Gavan Young entertained 140 guests at a candlelight dinner-dance. It was a delightful occasion on the twenty-first birthday of their son, Gavan Junior. Guests included friends from school days, university colleagues, relatives and many family friends. It was one of the finest evenings of the year arranged at Tattersall's Club.

It was interesting to talk with Bruce Cameron down from Hong Kong. Bruce controls the Business Executive Centre in the East. It's the first of its type in Hong Kong. There are 24 offices and Australians are located in at least four areas. A new idea, spearheaded by Bruce three years ago, is proving popular in the business scene. He was a great 3rd Floor Athletic Department man in our Club. So that's where I found him enjoying the delights of Tattersall's. Ed.

In the Tattersall's dining room John and Maree Conrick were seen celebrating the acquisition of their new Bondi home. In the party were mother and mother-in-law (who was the wife of the late Tattersall's member Vincent (Bill) Conrick — he was chairman of the Building Licensing Board).

John and party were very impressed with the food, service and the fine co-operation of the dining-room staff. He's a comparatively new member and has vowed to use the fine Club facilities at every opportunity.

Mr Rick Davis had a farewell dinner for Mrs Ann Fader on June 2, 1984. She is off to the USA on a nine-week holiday. It was 30 years since Mrs Fader last had dinner at the Club with her late husband, Mr Clem Fader, who was a member, so it was a memorable evening.

Member Allan Cam found Tattersall's Club to be the ideal place to entertain guests from Canada. The chief guest was Mr Bill Morrow from International Seafood Products. Those present with Allan and Mrs Cam were Mr and Mrs D. Bennet, Mr and Mrs J. Hutchings and Mr and Mrs R. Heilman. Mr Bill Morrow was delighted with Tattersall's seafood as it is always a very fine section of the excellent menu at Tattersall's.

Member Vince Ryan invited some delightful guests to celebrate his son Michael's birthday and honour daughter Kathy's academic promotion. The party included Mr and Mrs Justice J. Cahill, Mr and Mrs M.V. Ryan, Mr and Mrs V.J. Ryan, Kathy Ryan, Jaimie Ryan and Rev Father Francis Callanan. All agreed Tattersall's is such a pleasant venue for such an important occasion.

Member Joe Nagler and Eva Nagler thought it would be a nice idea to arrange a celebration dinner for daughter Nicole's birthday and cousin Tom Zalan visiting from Colorado, USA. Tom was delighted to be made so welcome in the Tattersall's Club way.

Harold McKay celebrated his wife Dot's birthday at Tattersall's, present were daughter Carol with husband, and son Geoff with his wife Penny. It's always a fun way to enjoy such occasions at Tattersall's.

Great clubman, popular Homer Jones was so happy to celebrate the birthdays of wife Madge, daughter-in-law Carole and grand-daughter Robyn. Homer said it was a trifecta of happiness. The merry party consisted of Homer, Madge, Carole and Robyn Jones with John Forsyth.

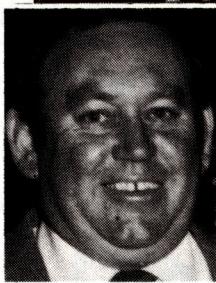

Member Rick Davis was to the fore in celebrating the new membership of Mr G. Jackson. A small dinner with their wives was the order of the enjoyable evening. Mr Jackson expressed concern about the Club running out of Lindemans Burgundy. The stewards made sure this did not happen.

Ian Kiernan was thrilled to arrange a dinner party for his youngest daughter's 15th birthday. Ian celebrated his 20 years of membership to our fine Club. Barry Page and friends joined the celebrations, too.

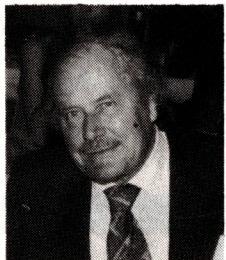

Ian C. Cook was very happy to arrange a farewell to James Cook to LA representing Australia in the Olympic Games. James sails with James Wilmot in the Flying Dutchman class. Present were Mrs B.P. Cook, James Cook, Anne (wife of James), Tessa Cook (three month-old baby and loves Tattersall's) and Prue Retallack. We hope as the slogan says they go all the way in LA.

Mr William Dyer and Mrs Eileen Dyer, AM, entertained at Tattersall's Club with a "Thank You" party to Doctor Austin and Mrs Hazel Mooney, Doctor Antony Rumore and Mrs Edna Rumore. It was in recognition for assistance in charitable works during 1984. Mr and Mrs Dyer are leaving for South Carolina representing Australia in July to attend the International Biographical Conference on Education and Culture, following the 11th Congress of the International Biographical Centre, Cambridge, England. Congress will be held in Vancouver, Canada. It's our education communication with Canada.

CLUB PERSONALITIES AND SPORTSMEN SERIES

Tattersall's Member GEORGE MOLNAR A Great Personality

The Sydney Morning Herald's longest-serving cartoonist, George Molnar, has retired. For just over 30 years, his graceful line, wry social observation and sharp, though unfailingly conservative, political comment have been an indissoluble part of the Herald's editorial pages.

For many readers, the Herald minus Molnar seems a contradiction in terms and letters have poured in regretting his retirement.

Letters of regret have also been arriving at Molnar's Point Piper apartment, with its spectacular views across Double Bay to the City, where he lives with his wife Carol and their two teenage children. An absurdly-youthful 74, Molnar, in the last few weeks, has generally been taking no notice of a recent operation — "For that I will never forgive my doctor" — and has been spending his time reading, paddling his canoe around Double Bay and preparing for an exhibition of his paintings to be held at the Holdsworth Galleries later in the year. Each painting is signed "Molnar pixit".

George Molnar never intended to be a cartoonist. Yet he spent 40 years drawing cartoons for Sydney newspapers. Neither did he intend to be a teacher. Yet he spent 30 years teaching architecture at the University of Sydney and later the University of New South Wales, where he was associate professor of architecture.

A man of considerable wit and charm — which is invariably described by those who know him best as "old-fashioned, middle-European" — Molnar was born in Nagyvarad, then part of Hungary, and came to Australia in 1939 after studying architecture at Budapest University.

After arriving in Australia he went to work in Canberra, designing what he calls "beautiful Mediterranean things" for the national capital's public servants. One of the houses he designed there is now the Soviet Embassy, an irony he enjoys greatly.

And what prompted Molnar to retire? Ultimately, he says, it was because he decided he hated reading newspapers.

"Many years ago I stopped reading newspapers. I only read newspapers on the days I was to do my cartoon. I am 74 now and why should I keep reading newspapers. I love doing cartoons, but reading newspapers is a high price.

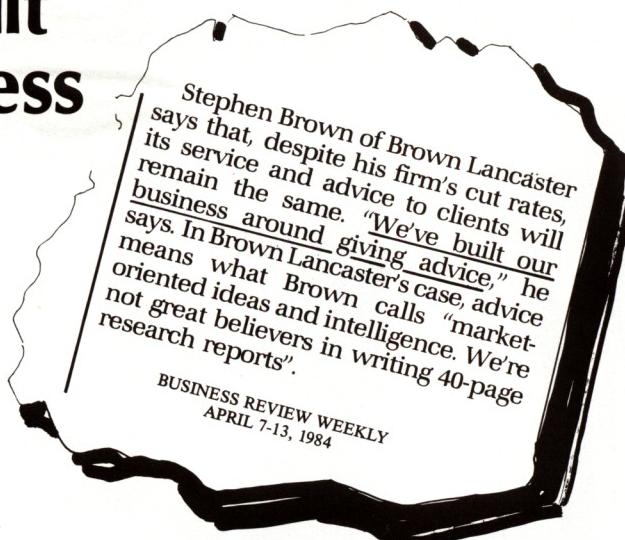

"The other thing is that I am really not interested in the world. The world as it is I don't like. If I want now I can look out this window to the Opera House or out of that window to the Bondi Pavilion. And I have so many books to read."

We thank the Herald for this fine tribute to George.

In Tattersall's Club George Molnar is a keen swimmer and uses the athletic section daily. He is a shy and very self-effacing type of person. His many friends hope George will continue to visit the Club — we'd miss this delightful personality. Ed.

ROD FISHER "SWIMS" ROUND THE LAKES

Tattersall's Golf Club members were once again unlucky weatherwise with a small field teeing off in misty rain and near sub-zero temperatures. Many people failed to advise of non-attendance, not even the courtesy of a call, which is not in keeping with Club tradition.

The weather improved during the day and so did the scoring and the four-ball was taken out by Peter Dind and Rod Fisher with a score of 44 points from Kevin Simmonds and visitor Dave Towie with 43. Under bad conditions (they played the tough back-nine first), Peter played excellent golf to record 20 points on his own. He gained an early lead on the opposition. Ian Macaskill and Tony Mayo who "put on the party" for their opponents and did it very happily.

Singles event was won by smiling Ben Zappia with 38 points from the redoubtable Tom Hartigan on 36.

It was good to see Frank McInerney who came up from Wollongong and Bryan Gale who made the trek from the mountains for the day. In all, it was a good day's golf and we thank The Lakes for the use of their fine course once again. In handing out thanks we also thank Debbie Sibson for her assistance over the past couple of years, Debbie having recently resigned from her position in Tattersall's general office.

CLOSE FINISH IN SWIM EXCITEMENT

Greg Goold again Club Champion over both 40 and 80 Yards

John Ward has Runaway Victory in Silver Sharpe Trophy

A large crowd of interested people witnessed the final events of the season.

The finalists in the 40 yards were Greg Goold, Hugh Keller, John Stubbs and Michael McCormack finishing in that order. The 80 yards was a soul-stirring struggle, the three finalists swimming stroke for stroke all the way with Greg Goold winning by inches from Michael McCormack with John Nicholas a clipped fingernail away in third place.

The A Grade 40 yards was hotly contested with Wal Meakes gaining the verdict from Ken Morgan with David Robinson in close attendance.

A Grade 80 yards was won in smart fashion by Tony King from Tony Salier, Rick Glover and Justice Bryce Ross Jones in that order.

B Grade 40 yards was taken out by Bill Debney in the smart time of 22 seconds from Justice Bryce Ross Jones with Gerald McCormack in third place.

The Ted Joye Honour Event was a boil-over with genial Jack Levy gaining the honours from committee man Norman Rogers with Wal Tyler third. Jack broke his time by two seconds.

In A.J. (Tony) McSweeney's "Silver Sharpe Trophy for all points scored during the season", John Ward blitzed his rivals, winning by the greatest margin recorded in the Club's history, scoring 227½ points, 31 points ahead of Gordon Salier on 196½ with hard-working Alec McLelland 193½ and "Czar" John Nicholas 192.

John Nicholas had his revenge in Tom Powell's Trophy with a total of 11 wins from Gordon Salier 10, John Keating 9 and Tony King 7. This trophy is for individual wins in 40-yard events only.

The Jack Mandel Family Event donated by Adrian Abbott was again a huge success resulting in a win for Russell and Bill Debney ably assisted by David Berkman with a score of 62, from Tony, Doug and Gordon Salier 59, followed by Andrew, John and Trevor Barrell 47.

The 1984 Tattersall's Club Sportsman of the Year, Michael McCormack, had a well-deserved victory in the Alex Hillston 80 yards Handicap with a score of 182, from dead-heaters Tony King and John Nicholas 172. Whilst Rick Glover had to be content in fourth place on 165.

Most improved and popular, young swimmer Andrew Barrell and Mike McCormack shared the Cedric Godhard and Ken Ranger Trophy with a total of 15 wins a piece, whilst David Robinson and Tony King dead-heated on 11 with Garry Wilson and Rick Glover on 10.

All winners will be presented with the "Feeling Fit" Trophy donated by Robbie Waterhouse.

Last, but in no way least was the meritorious and popular win of Alec McLelland in the June pointscore from John Ward and Tony King. Alec had been close-up on several occasions during the season and it was a pleasing and popular win acclaimed by a generous round of applause by all present for our hard-working and zealous assistant-honorary secretary.

Finally, I would like to express my deep appreciation to the various donors of the trophies for their generosity over the years.

Adrian Abbott, Mick Bartley, Cedric Godhard, Ray Hopkins, Alex Hillston, David and John Keating, Bruce McHugh, Tony McSweeney, Tom Powell, Ken Ranger, Norman Rogers and Robbie Waterhouse.

Thank you gentlemen.

PARS

Received word from Sir Talbot Duckmanton, who is holidaying in the United Kingdom, that he hopes to be back early in August, enjoying his dip on the third floor. He asked me to convey his regards to all and congratulations to the various winners.

I am pleased to state that Danny O'Connor has left hospital after a successful operation on his leg and is recuperating at home and hopes to be back early next month.

Oh where is my sparring and handball opponent Ted Joye? His geniality and sportsmanship is sorely missed by his many friends.

SPORTSMAN OF THE YEAR LUNCHEON

Club sportsmen and members attended the inaugural award luncheon to announce the winner for 1984. Swimmer, sportsman, solicitor Michael McCormack was named Sportsman of the Year.

Chairman Tony McSweeney told members it was an award in keeping with all the traditions of Tattersall's. Many outstanding sporting personalities were present, including Test cricketer Arthur Morris, Olympian John Devitt, international footballer Ken McCaffrey, Test cricketer Bob Simpson and distance swimmer Des Renford plus other fine sportsmen. Allen Walker presented a fine trophy to the winner. It was Allen's idea to introduce this award. His application and perseverance deserves Club thanks for his fine effort. The luncheon was held in the Club Room and photos appear on this page.

SNOOKER FAVOURITES FALL BY WAYSIDE

Our 1984 snooker tournament is well under way. Already a large number of "favourites" have been defeated.

Some brilliant exhibitions have been witnessed – John Hoyle played excellent snooker to win his second round and Clive Milliken defeated Jeff Woollard in a hard-fought match. Australian professional snooker champion Eddie Charlton won into the third round by defeating Veny Hrouda, but then was defeated brilliantly by Eugene Piekarski. A comical aftermath to Veny's match was, that although he did not pot a ball, he was congratulated for his fine exhibition. Maybe he has a good stance!

Your billiards and snooker sub-committee is planning some continual activity on the second floor, among other things will be a monthly mini-tournament with an interesting format – keep your eyes on the notice boards.

Col Pearce has been exhibiting the results of Eddie Charlton's tuition by explaining where a player should strike the object ball in relation to a clock, one to twelve. Col must have struck his ball at 12.15. He did not survive.

It is interesting to note that limit markers in Ossie Bates, Peter McGrath and Geoff Eastment have survived in our desire to give both mediocre and top players an equal chance to win.

Winners and losers as the snooker tournament progressed ...

A gala night has been arranged for the presentation of trophies similar to last year which was a great success, particularly as the presence of the ladies will again contribute to the enjoyment. Pre-dinner drinks will be served, followed by an elaborate smorgasbord and many novel prizes for the ladies will be raffled during the evening – details next column.

SKY THE LIMIT IN SKI CLUB ACTION

Enthused by a record attendance at the Ski Club pre-season buffet and film night on June 1, some 30 Tattersall's skiers arrived at Roslyn Lodge in Thredbo on Saturday, June 30, hopeful that the first of the season's good snow falls would again continue with Tattersall's week.

A record of 50 skiers and friends attended the buffet and film night to set the mood for our Roslyn and Wirruna outings. Both these events were well represented as were new skiers to the Tattersall's group.

The catering and service provided by Tattersall's staff was outstanding and contributed to the success of the evening. The feature however, was one of the best skiing films that any of those present had seen. Under the expert operation of Graham Smith the film was screened by courtesy of Travel-Plan, who specialise in arranging overseas skiing holidays. Terry Forrest was able to deny reports that he was other than in his usual state of good health and looking forward to joining Bas Phillips, Brian Cormac, Rus Debney and other regulars at Wirruna.

For some years Tattersall's arrival at Thredbo has heralded the first big dump of snow for the season. After two poor years the ski industry was getting apprehensive with the poor conditions throughout June. When our party arrived at Roslyn Lodge the last day of the month was sunny and clear with very poor skiing conditions. The following day was the same and those who skied did so in mud, on grass and over rocks. In these conditions

Ernie Rosen injured a shoulder sufficiently to keep him off the slopes for a few weeks.

The conditions were better suited for tennis than skiing and Tattersall's magic was at risk. The Sunday evening brought a change with some snow falls which continued into Monday, then the "big dump" happened during Monday night and Thredbo was suddenly top and bottom skiing and Tattersall's reputation saved, if only just so.

Our hosts at Roslyn, managers Leslie and Rob White, again undertook the catering arrangements and as usual the skiing week became a luxury holiday. Peter Magnus and Peter Burrows were responsible for arrangements which ensured a smoothly-organised week of fun for everyone. Apart from regulars Brian McFayden, Ashley Reid, Rick McPhail, Mike Hickey and families, new skiers to Tattersall's were Richard Wang, David Braga and their wives. Ian Connell, caught up with the end of the tax year, joined his family just after the good snowfall.

The next event on the ski calendar is the men's week at Wirruna and if snow conditions remain favourable another successful outing is assured. There will be a full report in the next issue.

Debbie Sibson in Tattersall's office is one of the reasons that our events are successful. We are therefore sorry to hear she is leaving and wish her every success. Her replacement, Joanne Grimble, will no doubt take the same interest in the ski section.

ROGERS BROTHERS' BIG QUINELLA

The NSW State Singles Championship provided further proof of the domination of Ron and Neil Rogers, of Tattersall's Club, of the single wall-handball game.

The field was a roll-call of present-day greats from the leading clubs and included Gary Stubbs and Jim Campbell from Clovelly, John Devine, Don Hudson and Reg Chappell, members of the Tamarama Club, Ray Hopkins, Bill Sellen and Tony Baine, Tattersall's Club entrants while past State title-holders, John Forde and Frank Caldwell along with Jim Robison, Noel Vella and Tony Brown were in the Bondi Iceberg's contingent.

John Forde and Jim Caldwell had a great and entertaining tussle before John took the match 31-29. Jim has proved a stumbling block to most leading players in all the representative tournaments and this year's State singles was no exception. Frank Caldwell's encounter with John Devine saw the ex-champ at his best and while John lifted his game appreciably over the last few points he was no match for the rampaging Frank. John, however, is improving and his dedication to the game can only ensure success in future events.

Tony Brown always plays an entertaining game and he did not disappoint his many fans in his match with Gary Stubbs who also is capable of producing a succession of match-winning shots. Gary was hungry for points in this clash and while he allowed Tony a mere eleven points the score gave no indication of the even standard of play produced by these two players.

Ray Hopkins and Tony Baine never fail to please the crowd but there was no denying Ray this day and Tony was forced to be content with 24 points.

Big-hitting Bill Sellen couldn't outgun Ron Rogers and while he forced Ron to dig deep in retrieving his powerful serve Ron proved the superior player to the tune of 31-14.

Jim Robison, considered a good chance by some for the title found Don Hudson no pushover and he scrambled home with a three-point leeway, 31-28.

Noel Vella and Reg Chappell, doubles team-mates for many years, found themselves opponents in a later round and they played each other to a standstill. The referee was subjected to a little McEnroe - like criticism and Noel was aware that he had played a tough opponent even allowing for the final score 31-26.

The quarter-finals saw Frank Caldwell defeat a tiring John Forde 31-24 in an always-tense and extended tussle.

Ron Rogers revealed tournament-winning form when he moved away from Jim Robison over the last stages of the match to win 31-19.

Neil Rogers and Ray Hopkins provided an entertaining and close clash with Neil exhibiting magnificent defence against a blistering offensive by Ray.

Gary Stubbs took an early lead in his clash with Noel Vella but while he appeared to have sufficient in reserve to ensure victory, Noel took the match 31-29.

The semi-finals provided all the drama but little of the fireworks of the earlier rounds and saw historic victories going to Ron and Neil Rogers. Neil overpowered Noel Vella in an even match 31-27 but Frank Caldwell did not provide the expected opposition to Ron who won 31-21.

The final was played in a tense atmosphere and with Ron serving he conceded the first point to Neil and this was the only time Neil held the lead and Ron won the following four points but Neil was able to retrieve the situation with clever placements to be down 4-6 at the service change.

Ron with the lead, applied pressure whenever possible and Neil found it difficult to retrieve the situation. The last he could manage was to be down by only two points at 9-11.

Ron then went to a 16-9 lead which he increased to 20-10.

From here Ron was unbeatable and took the title by a margin of 31-19.

CLUB PREMISES

Fellow Members,

As previously mentioned we desire to keep you informed as to negotiations concerning the redevelopment of the Club premises and submit to you the Building Sub-Committee Report July 1984.

On May 29, 1984 the Committee received a proposal in writing from a major building company for redevelopment of the Club site in conjunction with the adjoining Legacy site.

Since that date, the Building Sub-Committee has been convened on numerous occasions to seek advice, both outside and within its members, with the object of assessing the proposal and achieving a correct policy for the future of the Club's premises.

In order that the members now be fully informed on the progress to date, the following facts can be reported:

A. Council Section 317D Fire Safety Notice

This notice, requiring major fire-rating works to be carried out to the Club's premises, is the background which creates the necessity to make prompt decisions on the best means of satisfying both the order and the Club's future housing needs.

B. Proposal from Major Building Company

A summary of this proposal is as follows:

- (i) Building Company adopt the role of Project Manager and bring together Tattersall's, Legacy and a Hotel Operator who would occupy the new and partly-refurbished building. The building would be split into three strata titles, one to be owned by Tattersall's, one by Legacy, and the hotel over the top owned by an investor.
- (ii) The proposal is conditional on obtaining –
  - Council approval to the scheme.
  - The hotel operator on satisfactory terms.
  - An investor to own the hotel.
  - Legacy approval.
  - Tattersall's approval to pay $480,000 and move to other premises for approximately 20 months during building, as well as meeting the cost of fit-out and relocation expenses.

(iii) An opinion of the site value and the future value of the proposed new strata title premises was commissioned. This opinion also provided information on other Club development exchanges, which indicated that the proposal was not attractive.

(iv) The building company was advised that the proposal could not be recommended in its present form.

A revised offer was made on July 25, 1984 which eliminated the $480,000 cash payment, but reduced the standard of finishes in the building design.

As Legacy have not approved their part of the proposal, it is intended to advise the building company that this revised basis is not acceptable.

(v) It is the Committee's opinion that a total move for two years to other premises and back again would be both traumatic and very costly. Whilst the new premises would be very attractive, the net cost would result in borrowings of approximately $1.5 - $2 million, with no increase in income to service it.

(vi) Unless further negotiations produce a change in these circumstances, the proposal may not be viable.

C. Alternatives

The Committee has now directed its efforts towards re-investigation of previous proposals to refurbish the premises in a way which will provide sufficient income to service the costs involved.

There are a variety of configurations which may prove to be viable and provide a solution to both the fire order problem and the Club's future efficient operations.

Will you be one of the few Australians to sail on the QE2 in 1985?

|                    |         |              |
|--------------------|---------|--------------|
| New York-Sydney    | 33 days | From $6,935 |
| Los Angeles-Sydney | 20 days | From $4,325 |
| Papeete-Sydney     | 14 days | From $3,625 |
| Auckland-Sydney    | 7 days  | From $1,990 |
| Perth-Hong Kong    | 10 days | From $2,920 |
| Perth-Singapore    | 17 days | From $4,965 |

When the QE2 departs New York in January, on the first leg of her 1985 Golden Route World Cruise, those aboard her can look forward to an unparalleled experience in luxury and service. After all, she should not boast a branch of Harrods if she did not personify elegance and style.

Naturally, bookings for an event such as this are eagerly sought. Especially as she so rarely sails to Australia.

Unfortunately, the $350,000 Penthouse Suite has already been booked.

However, there is a limited number of staterooms available on one or more legs of the cruise into or from Australia.

And to enable as many people as possible to experience a passage aboard the QE2 we have included with the cruise your flight to your port of departure, at no extra cost.

And as you can see, some people are prepared to pay $350,000 for it.
